

Where to stay in Glasgow

Special Hotel Rates 2026

Welcome

Glasgow, one of Europe's most vibrant, dynamic and stylish cities, has been named the number one UK destination "on the rise" by the world's largest travel site, TripAdvisor®. Glasgow has a fantastic range of hotels, to suit any budget, is served by three international airports and is ideally located for exploring Scotland.

Need a hotel room in Glasgow?

Glasgow Caledonian University has partnered with a variety of hotels in the local area to provide you, as a member of staff, a guest of the University, a student or an event organiser booking with the University, with reduced rates for accommodation in the city. The rates are also open to friends and relatives. This brochure describes the hotels and their rates to help you make the best choice for you and your guests.

To Book

There is no need to book through a central team at the University; you can book your hotel room direct with the hotel as follows

- Choose your ideal hotel from this brochure.
- Contact your chosen hotel and check availability. All of the hotels have a phone number but a number also accept online bookings.
- Quote the booking reference code to receive the special Glasgow Caledonian University rate.

- Confirm your booking details and enjoy your stay.
- Paying for your booking: Please note for internal bookers who require the University to pay for accommodation via an invoice, a purchase order number must be raised via the University's PECOS system. This number must be quoted to the hotel and included on the invoice to the University. All PECOS orders must be receipted following the stay or payment by the University cannot be made. Please also note that if additions have been made to the original booking e.g. extra night's stay or evening meal, an additional purchase order number must be raised and quoted on the same invoice.

All other bookings must provide the hotel with a credit card to guarantee and payment made accordingly.

All rates are subject to availability.
